

Web Page Designing offer

We design both small pages with a small number of text or pictures and professional, complex, topical websites or whole portals of any content-related matter or profile. We specialize in complex services for Companies.

- On request, we conduct (or give advice) during the whole process which include: the choice of domain and its registration, putting it on web hosting, designing and page performance, and finally the page promotion.
- We create the pages mostly in the following technologies: php, xhtml, css and javascript. We try to select best technical solutions, adjusted to the given situation and client's needs.
- We care for the easiness of navigation as well as legibility of information included on the pages. We design layouts relevant to a given subject matter or profile.
- We care for correctness of code - we match technical solutions paying special attention to the modernity of a given technology and functionality of its elements in each system platform and web browser.
- Pages designed by us fulfil the marketing requirements. Their construction, arrangement of particular parts and appropriate choice of colours allow to concentrate our attention on specific elements. Additionally, the customer can have the possibility to change its content via easy administrative panel in CMS system and of word processing in an easy html editor.
